GUITAR SELECTOR

This code has as object to give to the people the best guitar option according to the music gender the want to play, and if the guitar is going to be played in studio or in a presentation.

My guitar selector basically gives you the best guitar option (and the price) according to the music gender that you whish to play, and if you want to use that guitar in the studio or in a live event like a concert or a presentation; for example, you can say that you want to play hard rock as the music gender and to play in studio, your best guitar option would be Gibson Les Paul with G Force tuning system (automatic tuner), since this guitar solves one of the main problems at the studio, the detuning, therefore at the recording time you won't have problems with the tuning.
